in all descriptions. The sales of Railway mortgages and State stocks were small at reduced prices. Pacific and Atlantic Mail were stronger the latter selling at 40, and the former at 90, closing at 88i and 31@40. The general share market was lower, under a continued brisk inquiry for money at full legal rates. The break-down in Atlantic Mail has shaken the confidence of money-lenders, and larger margins are required upon the strongest shares on the list, including railways as sure of income as the banks which loan upon them. There is now a very large and increasing bear element in the market, created, in a great degree, by the decline in the "Van-derbilt Stocks." Erie, Hudson River, and New-York Central, which since April 1 have fallen from 6 to 10 per cent, give the bears courage to sell the whole market. The protracted dearness in money also aids the bears, who are confident that all the currency sent out of the city has gone "to stay." The market closed steady, with less disposition to press sales. One lot of fat Western cattle, $\psi$ cwt, averaged more than 19c., but were soldcarly in the day. Toward night pretty decent cattle were offered at $17\psi$ isc., and bayers who stayed longest got the best bargains, only the good stock had previously been taken. The poorest dry cows, which had been milked up to the time of selling, brought about 15c, per $\psi$, a lot of 17 selling at $\psi$ 50 each, some of them in fair flesh. The numbers reported include several lots of such cows, picked up among the milkmen and taken direct to the slaughterers—in some cases cows which gave six quarts of milk per day, so cager were purchasers hunting them up, paying all the way from $\psi$ to $100 each, necording as small and very poor, or large and fat.
